THE TENNIS CLUB BIG MASQUERADE 'T. 28

STRATHMORE DISTRICT SCHOOL FAIR

The Annual School Fair was held on Friday, October 21st. It had been postponed twice on advice of the Health Officer, owing to the contagiousness, and to the fact that the farmers are very busy; the parade had to be called off. Although neither the attendance nor the number of exhibits was as large as usual, the exhibits in all classes were of excellent quality. Mr. Benn, of the Commercial School of Agriculture, was so pleased with the exhibits in general that he requested that all prizes in grains and grasses be sent to the Commercial School of Agriculture, so that they may be sent later to the Provincial Seed Fair. He also asked that the outstanding work in Art and Map Drawing might be loaned to be shown at other points.

The following schools competed: Berta Vale, Harwood, Hervey, Glencairn, Elwood, Servierbrook Creek and Strathmore (6 units).

The judges were: Inspector and Mr. Buchanan, for school work; Mr. Benn, School of Agriculture, and Mr. Hays, Lethbridge Experimental Farm, for grains, grasses, flowers and stock; Miss McIntyre, and Miss Donnelly, School of Agriculture, for domestic science.

CARLELAND

A list of the prize winners of the Carleland school fair will be published next week.

The Carleland Ladies Aid will hold their Annual Bazaar and Thanksgiving Dinner in the Community Hall on Friday, November 10th. The bazaar begins at 11 p.m., and dinner will be served from 5.30 p.m. to 8 p.m., followed by an excellent program.

Will Hilds please have all articles for the bazaar at the hall on Thursday afternoon, November 10th, with best prices and suggested sale price on each article.

Harold Smith was seeing some of the Elks regarding the school fair that he had had at the E. P. Ranch when the Prince of Wales was spending his holidays, and how he had accompanied the Prince on his hunting trips each day. Somebody asked "Tony" Grogan how Smith came to have such a stand in with the Royal family. "I'm now 10 feet," said Smith, "when that old king said that week I was working for the Cornet I could have choked him."

ELWOOD

H. Hansen is fencing a quarter section with hog wire.

Threshing is getting well along. Another few days of good weather will see most of it cleared up.

A very pleasant time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Praeker last Saturday evening, which took the form of a shower for Miss Catherine Van Havel, whose marriage to Mr. Frank Pante will take place shortly. But the young people are popular in the district, Mr. Pante being the teacher of the Elwood school. Dancing occupied the early part of the evening. A large crowd gathered, practically the entire district being represented, as well as Calgary and Strathmore. Many useful gifts were received.

Some splendid yields are reported on stubble in grain, thirty bushels and better. Summerfallow is not yielding as well accordingly, and the yield is not so good.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Craddock, of Strathmore, were among those present at the shower on Saturday evening.

THE CANADIAN LEGION HONORS MRS. D. FRENCH

Members and lady friends of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, H.E.S.L., spent an enjoyable, and in many ways successful evening in their clubhouse on Thursday last.

The "Very Light Concert Party" featuring their wings, distended a good formation and did some fighting, they even had a special musical entertainment with some reviews of their accomplishments appear elsewhere in this issue.

The song test was followed by one of those famous suppers provided by the Legion, whose efforts in that line have put the males entire in the background.

Vice-President S. H. Crowther, presiding, echoed the desire of all in wishing the President, Comrade D. French, who has been undergoing a medical board, a speedy and safe return to health and Strathmore.

Introducing the guest of the evening, Comrade Alex Walker, the chairman, Mr. French was among those present at the shower on Saturday evening.

Effectively, while apparently deploring the absence of their usual concert party, nobly assisted by her songs, and the audience, with slight relief, sat back to enjoy the result.

Among the good things provided were some of the most delicious and excellent addition to local musical circles, "What's the Use of Feeling Blue" and the other songs, Mr. French sang, showing some measure of cultivation with gratifying attention to the details of organization and execution. Her numbers were both enjoyed.

Miss Margaret Watson sang with her usual great sweetness, and more than a hint of vibrato, Herbert's "Gipsy Love Song" and as encore "I Love the Moon". Miss Watson's voice, her contralto and great musical ability make her support, so freely and graciously given at all times, invaluable to local entertainments.

Miss Sally Wright, a fine singer of promise, was quietly pretty in her garden costume, carrying a basket of flowers, and her songs, her contralto and great musical ability make her support, so freely and graciously given at all times, invaluable to local entertainments.

ANOTHER GREAT WAR PREDICTED

LONDON—Prediction of a great war was made by Basil Stewart, one of the speakers at the meeting of the well-known society known as the British League, held at Londonderry House by invitation of the Marquis of London.

Mr. Stewart made the solemn prediction that the next world war will start on May 28, 1928, and will continue until December 18, 1929.

He based his prediction on the symbolism of the great pyramid, combined with what he termed prophetic forecasts of the Bible, and he asserted that the war would be accompanied by unprecedented convulsions of nature, floods and earthquakes.

England, he said, and other countries which are the "Port of Israel" will emerge victorious, but Russia asserted the premonition, which he based on entirely.

Lord Desborough presided, in the absence of the Lord Comptess of Radnor, who is president of the society.

SCHOOL COLUMN

The School Fair Association wishes to thank the following who acted as secretaries to the judges: Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Shawcross, the Rev. Winter, Mr. Schulte, Mr. Harold Hildon, and Mr. McKay. Thanks are also due to Mrs. A. A. Moore, Mr. Stockton, the Rev. Wilkinson, and the Rev. Winter for so kindly making the positions.

As usual, the C.P.R. loaned the tent and lumber, which is always a great factor in allowing the exhibits to be the best advantage.

The High School boys did a good business selling hot dogs, coffee, and other refreshments. The proceeds will be used in the interest of athletics.

All teachers of the competing schools are respectfully requested to send in to the secretary of the School Fair Association a complete list of prizes claimed by their respective schools.

The members of the 1928 Annual Convention of the Calgary Rural Teachers' Association is now out, and should be the last of all teachers of Mr. Buchanan's Inspectorate. The convention will be held in Calgary November 2nd and 4th. Most of the schools will therefore be closed from the 2nd to the 7th of November, both days inclusive.

The officers of the Troop wish to point out to parents and others interested in this movement, that there is an adult Troop Committee, the Executive being as follows: President, A. D. Strathmore; Vice-President, T. Wright; and Secretary-Treasurer, M. D. French. Any of these gentlemen will gladly give full information concerning the work of the organization.

SPEAKER LEMIEUX MAY RESIGN

It is reported at Ottawa, according to the correspondent of the Toronto Star, that Mr. Lemieux may resign his seat in the House of Commons. It is said that he will receive some other appointment, perhaps that of Lieutenant Governor of Quebec. The resignation of Mr. Lemieux has created a great surprise, as it was expected that he would be re-elected at the next election.

The stage was artistically arranged as a living room, with piano, easy chair, and shaded lamps, with what would appear to be a view of English Bay, Vancouver, to be glimpsed from a French window.

"MEN'S BETTER WEAR"

BORZOI DOG RACERS MAY BE UTILIZED

LONDON, England—Apparently the British public is already getting dis-satisfied with greyhound racing, for there is much support for the introduction of a new class of dog on the tracks. This is the so-called borzoi, which is credited with great speed and stamina.

The borzoi is mainly bred in Italy, and though by nature is addicted to chasing nothing, it is understood that showing greater intelligence than the greyhound they can in time be trained to race without any incident. Another suggested newcomer is the whippet. This dog is bred in the North of England, and though of much smaller stature is credited with as much speed.

LEAGUE PLANS TO DEVELOP ITS OWN HOCKEY PLAYERS

OTTAWA—Up in the northern gold country of Ontario imported hockey has flourished in every town for years. In the old days when the miners needed for gold they had their own on their home towns and thousands of dollars changed hands on every game. For years the imported idea persisted so that many a hockey club went bankrupt.

Nothing but local talent will play on the northern towns this winter, most of the teams wound up broke last year and hockey equipment has been sold on the installment plan for years. The Soo Greyhounds have a home brew team which it is considered will be strong enough to win the Allan Cup. When the Hounds turned pro they found the difference in the game too much, and the team was gradually dismantled and its promoters lost thousands of dollars in the venture.

VIERKOTTER SALES MINUS BIG PURSE WON

NEW YORK—According to Hinko "alls all that Ernest Vierkotter, the German swimmer, took home with him was the honor of winning the big $25,000 Toronto race, and that in all other respects he sailed away "definitely stoned."

According to Ernie's own statement, when he boarded a train for New York, he backed up in a very plucky condition as a result of the lamada made on it at Toronto by alleged managers, publicity men, etc.

Once on the train, the swimmer was invited to sit in and make up a quartet in a game of "vans." In talking English, Mr. Vierkotter observed he knew nothing of this past time, but "loved he'd gladly wear it." If everyone could play plowch, they did, and Ernie saw more "hundred and fifty rumps," "hundred aces" and such than he ever knew, and one pinhole deck could hold.

And they were all against him and that tells the whole story.

INCORPORATED FARMS

Incorporated farming seems to be entering upon a new stage of its development, according to a Kansas City dispatch to the New York Evening Post. Three Kansas wheat farmers, it seems, have formed a $150,000 corporation, with the intention of cutting expenses all along the line, harvesting their crop more expeditiously, and selling co-operatively through a sales agent. According to the Kansas City dispatch:

The three farmers have put in their agreement to be under a skillful head; there (farming operations shall be conducted as a unit, with equipment thus minimized and the cost of overhead reduced. More than 5,000 acres of wheat will be sowed this fall, but it will be done by a few tractors and carried on as one field. Instead of a dozen custom farming outfits in machinery and motor trucks, there will be only the number required to handle the acreage, and the production will be marketed co-operatively through a sales agent.

This season has seen great loss to the wheat belt because of delay in harvesting and threshing, grain having been ruined by long-continued rains while the producer waited for the coming of a threshing crew to care for his crop. With combined forces each group could have its own equipment, and the entire acreage could be cared for promptly. Like-wise the preparation of ground for next year's crop is delayed when, by combined management, all could be done in proper time.

This remark the Mobile Register may be the beginning of a more extensive movement, with all kinds of farmers incorporating. Moreover—Such a movement brings us face to face with a new kind of trust in America, and a trust, too, of rather dangerous significance. But the farmers of this country have as much right to form these corporations as any other class of citizens, and the fact that they have failed to do so emphatically up to this time has too often left them to the mercy of men not much interested in farming except for the unearned profits they could get out of it.

True, some of the big stock farms of the country have been incorporated, and, too, are outstanding among great American enterprises. Some of the cotton plantations also have been owned and operated by corporations; but, as a rule, the incorporation were not "dirty farmers." In the Kansas case, the incorporators are wheat farmers, men on the ground, men familiar with the needs and problems of the wheat farmers of the country. It will be interesting to see how it works out.

If Kansas wheat farmers can thus successfully pool their issues, there does not seem to be any good reason why farmers of other kinds in other sections of the country may not do likewise. Soon we may have all the farms in the country operated by corporations, and this may bring us face to face with a new economic order of large meaning in our national life.

TELEPHONE SYSTEM HAD BUSY MONTH

Establishing a new high record in the history of the system, toll business over Alberta telephone lines during the month of September, 1927, amounted to $120,467.50, being an increase of over $25,000 over the corresponding month in 1926. A total of 128 stations were added to the system in the month, 247 of these being in towns and cities and 181 on rural lines.

SPORT NOTES

WALTER JOHNSON HAS RESIGNED

Walter Johnson, after twenty years at the top of the game he loves, the famous pitcher has asked for and received his unconditional release from the Washington American League club.

The lean, muscular, sun-burned man who smiled from beneath the brim of a battered bowler hat and extended a hand which flung baseballs better than anyone else, belied in looks at least his opening remark.

"I just felt," said Johnson, "that my days of usefulness to the Washington club as an active player were over."

At 41, an age he will attain November 7, Walter Johnson looks every inch the fine figure of an athlete. In expressing his impending retirement from the playing field, one would not necessarily believe that Barney is an old man.

"Baseball has been kind to me," Walter said, "and Washington fans have been particularly kind to me."

"I had rather not wind up my baseball career with a Washington team, but—well, I guess it just was to be."

Disappointed

There was no doubt from the manner of Johnson's rather discomfited expression as he said this, that the big pitcher had hoped to be able to continue with the Senators until he quit baseball for good.

His departure is voluntary, but only because of conditions on the Washington team, with plenty of young left fellows.

"Griff didn't send me a contract and I just decided it was a good time for me to get out. So I told him that if he would give me my unconditional release and obtain the consent of the other clubs to my becoming a free agent, it would be alright with me."

The pitcher said he believed the other club owners would advise Griff with of their consent.

"Of course," he added, "one of them might claim me. As they have a right to do. In which case, if I received the right kind of an offer from someone who really wanted me—why, I might keep it."

Would Consider Offers

Walter was asked if he would consider accepting the management of one of a number of major league clubs now casting about for pilots for 1928.

"Why, yes," he replied without hesitation. "I've always held player. I'd be glad to have charge of a major league club and I'd know if I'd make a success of it."

Johnson explained the New York report that he had been offered the management of the International League club is that city.

"A friend of Mr. Paul Block called me up last night," he said, "and asked me if I would make no arrangements for the future before seeing Mr. Block."

"I expect that in a few days, Griff will hear from the other owners that they agree to my release," he explained. "Then I'll see what I do."

Greatest Thrill

"What was the greatest thrill you got out of the game in 1926?"

"Well," replied Johnson, thoughtfully, "you see I was with the Senators so long, and we were in a rut for so many years, and the fans were for me and so kind to me all those years."

He hesitated a minute.

"I guess the thing I like to remember most about baseball is how we finally got to the top and got into the world series of 1924 with the Giants, and how the fans came to me and my friends, and everyone was so glad about it, and then there came the chance to pitch for them, and I did, and won."

"There was that last game," he continued, after a pause, "and I was tired to get my chance, the chance to go in there and pitch the deciding inning when we won the world's championship. I was lucky, that's all."

WILL JOHN RISCO EVER MEET TUNNEY

Among the army of heavyweights who long to get a crack at the crown won by Gene Tunney, is the much improved John Risco, the human piece of concrete.

As shown in his recent round victory over Jack Delaney, the boy who resigned as lightweight king to go after the heavyweight money, Risco has improved his boxing and not at the expense of his punch.

Last year Risco finished a minor second in his first argument with Delaney.

Right now John is considered one of the most dangerous men in the heavy ring. Only a pile driver can knock him out, and, though not so fast on his feet, he makes up for it with flying fists. He owns one of the best lefts in the business.

Gene Tunney can prove this claim. Gene fought the Cleveland rubber many 12 rounds late in 1925 and, although the champ easily won the decision, it must be said in defence of Risco that he hit Tunney plenty.

Beats Tunney and Delaney, Risco has fought Sharkey, Berlenbach, Bob Fitzsimmons, Mike McGuire, Eddie Gaffigan, Rommie Adams, Young Archie, Tommy Langford and a flock of others not so important.

Jack Dempsey was to fight Risco for the world title, but before negotiations were completed, Dempsey received the offer to meet Jack Sharkey in New York.

Now just how far Risco can go towards a shot at Tunney will be determined on October 26, when he meets Tom Heeney, who recently stopped Jimmy Maloney in 77 seconds.

A WONDERFUL TRAINER

WINNIPEG—R. R. Mickel, who has the distinction of training the two outstanding two-year-olds of 1927, Alta Peabody and Royston Court, was for many years trainer for Frank Sloan, of Winnipeg. Trainer Mickel was born in Simla, India, of Irish-American parents. When a boy he went to England and was attached to the base of Portland's stable, trained by Willie Wough, a notable conditioner of thoroughbred horses. He emigrated to America and learned the American style of training, and with a knowledge of the English methods he combined the two until he has gotten wonderful results.

While in New-England about two years ago, he was engaged by P. D. Shea, of Winnipeg, to buy and train a stable of horses. He and Mr. Shea purchased Flat Iron, Minnie and Dickhouse for a campaign at Ti Juna. Flat Iron was known as the $40,000 horse in the east. Shee gave $3,000 for him on the advice of R. R. Mickel. He developed this Madden-bred Flat Iron into a real high-class handicap horse. Flat Iron and the other horses won $60,000 for Shea in stakes and purses since January 1, until he sold all his thoroughbreds during the summer.

Shee's disposition of his entire left Mickel without a berth, but he was not long in that position for Joka Hertz signed him quickly. And the fellow, although made up of mistakes, Alta Peabody had been on east and had been some home with a magnificent win. Mickel took her up to Toronto and she won it up by winning the Futurity. Then Royston Court was at his first asking and was but a head off of Alta Peabody in the Futurity. Then Royston Court was beaten by a nose in the Eastern Horse by Happy. Time and last Saturday won the $25,000 Kentucky Jockey club stakes.

With the cost and the training, Trainer Mickel won approximately for Mrs. Hertz $150,000. All of this was in one season with the one stable of one horse. If that is not a record, which flat show me an effort in any line of endeavor as nearly comparable?

THE WORLD'S SERIES PITCHERS

Those who picked Pittsburgh to win the series were counting heavily upon the National League's pitching staff, which had performed so consistently in the regular season. Knepper, Meadows, Hill and Albridge were expected to stop the Yankees. It was said that the Yankees had not faced such a corps of brilliant bowlers during the season. This may have been true as the Pittsburgh pitchers had not faced an array of hitters before during the season. But the way all four Pittsburgh pitchers performed in the series reflected only credit upon them.

Knepper pitched the first game and allowed only five hits in five innings. The Yankees made five runs against him and four of them were earned. Albridge, who relieved him, allowed only one hit in four innings and held the Yankees scoreless. Knepper's weakness was his lack of control. He was extremely too cautious. Albridge pitched the second game and allowed 10 hits in seven innings. Meadows pitched brilliantly up to the seventh inning of the third game but he was up against Peggook, who was pitching one of the best games of his career. Meadows struck out six men. Pittsburgh made one error. Hill did extremely well in the last game and really pitched better than Moore who won some fine support from his club mates. As a whole, it may be said that the two pitching staffs performed nearly evenly, but the more timely hitting of the Yankees coupled with longer distance hitting, and better fielding swayed the balance of power in their direction.

Was to be with his master by day and by night.
He wriggled with joy at his pat on the head.
And slept in contentment each night by his bed.
They lived in a time very troubled and sad.
There was a war—and a war is exceedingly bad.
Fools and masters must part when there's war.
And sometimes, when parted, don't meet any more!
Well, this spaniel's master, poor fellow, was sent Off to prison; for what, I don't know, but he went.
The spaniel came following right to the place,
But the gate of the prison was shut in his face.
No matter, this spaniel came back every day.
And the guard in the end let the dog have his way.

He opened the gate—the dog rushed inside.
Found his master, caressed him and barked till he cried.
Thereafter each day he was let in to stay.
For a moment or two, and then sent on his way.
But the master, alas! had been sentenced to die—
While the little dog watched, he was shot as a spy.
Friends were kind to the dog—offered lodging and meals.
But how can a stranger tell how a dog feels?
His little heart breaking, the poor spaniel lay
On the grave of his master—day after day.

AND WHEN, BROKEN HEARTED, THE LITTLE DOG DIED, THEY BURIED HIM THERE AT HIS DEAD MASTER'S SIDE.

OPENING DATE POSTPONED

OLDS—The date of opening for the first and second year students at the Olds School of Agriculture has been changed from October 26th to November 15th. This change has been made as the new buildings have been completed and the equipment installed in the new classrooms. The Third Year classes will open as usual in the old building on the 19th of October.

To overcome the loss of time resulting from the late opening, the holidays at Christmas will be curtailed some what, and the spring term will be extended a few days.

There are applications from two hundred and sixty students at the present time. This is one hundred more than at the same date in previous years, and would indicate that the attendance at the school is increasing.

fill to capacity the additional accommodation provided by the new buildings.

MARVELOUS VALUE

It is really marvellous the wealth of good, wholesome, instructive reading matter in each issue of The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal. It is a wonderful combination of three great papers: a weekly paper, a newspaper covering the news of the world, with the greatest news gathering organization in existence; a family magazine of interest to every member of the family, old and young; and an agricultural journal that is worth alone, many times the price of the paper. Just imagine a combination containing all the above features in a 162 page paper, and all for the price of the average country weekly—only one dollar a year. The Family Herald and Weekly Star is a credit to the publishing business of Canada, and well deserves the support of all Canadians. It is said to have over a million readers each week.

John Cusack, the versatile, energetic representative of the Sun Life Assurance Co., who covers a territory from Empress in the East to any point where a good hockey match is played, was telling about his crops in the Empress district. One man has threshed 62 bushels to the acre, and the machinery in the district, and the machinery cannot get supplies fast enough. He told of the good fortune of one man who had been driven out a few years ago, and in the meantime had built up a fund amounting to $25,000. Last spring he went back to the Empress district, bought a section and a half on crop payment. He established his crop, and will thresh a crop in the neighborhood of 28 bushels to the acre. He will pay for half his land, has money to buy a big car, and is now away to the good, and if he has half the luck next year, will see him sitting 'satting pretty'.

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

NASH gives you a 7-bearing Crankshaft instead of trying to persuade you otherwise as just as good.

The NASH Company believes that the only adequate way to achieve engine and chassis life in engine life is by ample crankshaft support WITH A MAIN BEARING on each side of each connecting rod.

Since NASH adopted the 7-bearing motor every ABSOLUTELY NEW 6 cylinder engine has been of 7-bearing design.

Today, more than ever, the NASH 7-bearing motor is the world's smoothest and most satisfactory type.

A PROFITABLE INVESTMENT

One Canadian investor is receiving $25,000 annually in dividends on stock which did not cost him anything. Seventeen or eighteen years ago he bought 500 shares of Ogilvie Flour Mills at a cost of $45,000. In the next eight or nine years, the dividends were sufficient to amortize capital and pay interest meanwhile. And the investor's holdings were increased to 1,500 shares, on which he receives $25,000.00 annually.

On Thursday afternoon, the Ladies Aid of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. Harold Summers. Final arrangements for the bazaar and fowl supper, which will be held on Thanksgiving day, November 7th, were discussed. At the close of the meeting, delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

Judging from the crowd presented in the hall Friday evening, the Dempsey-Tunney pictures were well received.

The New Ford Car

HENRY FORD, throughout his history, became famous, and wealthy through producing for the people a car that appealed to the masses.

HENRY FORD produced a car that was within reach of the purse of the average man, and that car was built to give service.

HENRY FORD became renowned because he was recognised as a man of vision, who gave the public what they needed—viz—more for their dollar than they could purchase elsewhere.

HENRY FORD developed an industry that is now employing 70,000 people, producing the new Ford.

HENRY FORD holds the confidence of the public to such an extent that 125,000 orders with deposits have been placed, "sight, unseen" for the new car, and approximately 225,000 more have placed orders without deposits, because Ford clients have confidence that the NEW CAR will give more value for the dollar than any other automobile manufacturer has ever given.

HENRY FORD will appreciate your confidence, if you also make your reservation NOW while he and his staff of engineers and mechanics are busy completing the finishing touches to the New Ford.

Flancee: "Jimmie, mother asked me to object to the use of the word 'obey' in the ceremony."

Jimmie: "And what did you tell her?"

Flancee: "I said I'd let it stand. I told her you could take a joke as well as any man."

They sat in the swing at midnight, but her love was not to his taste. His reach was but thirty-six inches, while hers was a forty-six waist.

"Did you let that young man kiss you?" asked a Strathmore matron of her daughter the other evening.

"Let him? I'll say I didn't. I actually had to help him," she replied.

They were looking at a kangaroo at the Calgary Zoo when an Arraport Irishman said: "Beg pardon, sor, what kind of a creature is that?"

"Oh," said the gentleman, "that is a native of Australia."

"Good heavens," exclaimed Bill, "an me sister married 'an o' them."

The Calgary motorist had lost his way. Halting the first pedestrian he overtook he asked the way to Rocky-

"I don't know that I can explain it very clearly," replied Bill Wilkinson, "but if you'll take me in your car I'll point it out to you as we go along."

"Good," said the motorist. "Jump in."

"First," directed Bill, as he took his seat, "drive ahead about two miles."

"When the two miles had been traversed, he continued: 'Now if you'll drop me here, I can show you the rest of the way quite easily. Just turn around and go back two miles and continue east for about twelve miles and then straight north into Rockyford.'

"Why didn't you tell me that in the first place instead of taking me two miles in the 'wrong direction'?" demanded the motorist.

"I didn't want to hurt your feelings right away by telling you that you were going the 'wrong way,'" replied Bill, "and, besides, I live here."

Lady (announcing husband's decision to give up his profession): "Yet my husband burnt his bridges behind him."

John C. Davis: "How very unfortunate I do hope they weren't his best pair."

"Do you say that Jim Swanson has a profession?"

Roy Miner: "No, he just works for a pastime."

Vincent: "To had Shakespeare wasn't born in London."

Vincent: "How so?"

Vincent: "I said he was 'an that exam."

Frank Sharpe was rushing through the station the other day when a pretty girl stopped him.

"Will you help the Working Girls' Home," she asked.

"Sure," replied Frank. "Just as soon as No. 1 gets away; I am strong on that stuff, and you don't need to take Marshall Kimpson away from his work of reading Jack Allen's list of notes."

Percy Parish referring to a "bird sitting over in the corner at the Hotel" he makes me tired. He has been forth for over half an hour telling about his uncle, what he does, about an operation his aunt had to undergo, and what a clever athlete he was when he was young. Who cares about his uncle, aunt, or himself. Bah, he makes me sick."

That Louisiana's most married woman is Mrs. John W. Willis, or Willis, who has been wedded 44 years ago.

Thrice the matrimonial ties have been severed by death and six times by divorce. Mrs. Willis, who has become very wealthy through oil properties, says she "believes in love and wants a man around."

Bill Terney says he was always very happy while travelling in Louisiana, and may make a trip down that way if he can ever catch up with work so that he can take a holiday. Those oil properties look pretty good to him, and that he would be a pretty handy man to have around.

"Oh, mother, may I go to the Tennis Club's Big Masquerade on Friday, October 28th, as a milkmaid?"

"No, you are too small."

"Then may I go as a condensed milkmaid?"

"Oh, dear! I don't know, ask Jim. We're what he thinks about it, he knows everything about masquerades."

Jack Macomber: "How long ago ye served at the moo, Donald?"

Donald: "Verra near thirty years, sir."

Jack: "Arrah, as a token of recognition ye can now consider yourself on 'th' parliament staff!"

Two men were discussing golf courses in general and a little nine-hole course in particular. Eventually the conversation turned to a certain 18-hole course. "I always think," said one, "that the little nine-hole course is far more difficult than the 18-hole course."

"Well one would expect it to be so," exclaimed a friend who did not play golf. "Why?" asked Ernie White, who was sitting nearby.

"It is obviously easier to get a little ball into one of the holes when there are 18. It would be twice as hard when there are only nine."

"I value him away," said Ernie, "he is hope less."

A little Calgary girl was riding on the street car with her mother, a woman of very slender build. Presently an extremely stout woman walked heavily into the car and sat down opposite the child.

Audrey, contemplating the newcomer for some time, then, turning to her mother, inquired in a loud voice:

"Mummy, is that all one lady?"

Teacher: "Parse the sentence: 'This married Jane.'"

Mike: "Tom's a noun, because he's the name of something. Married is a conjunction, because it joins Tom and Jane. And Jane's a verb, because she governs 'Tom.'"

"Pardon me," said Jim Swanson, "but your face is familiar."

"So your manner," retorted the slight little brunette.

"How did you know I was going to wear my hair curled this evening?"

Today: "I saw it in the papers this morning."

Harold Smith: "She isn't exactly pretty, but she has that indolent something."

"So it has," said Tony Grogan, "her father isn't a bit of it."

"I'm getting on a little poker game, too," said Bobby lamely. "Would you like to join us?"

Bob: "I do not play poker."

"I'm sorry. I was under the impression that you did," said Bob.

"I was sure, under that impression myself," replied Bob.

Bargain Hunting Woman: "What time does the next train for the city leave?"

D. A. Perry: "3:08 madam."

Bargain Hunter: "Make it 3:09 and I'll take it."

"We've had the best time playing pool," exclaimed the small hopeful of the faculty. "We gave a letter to every lady in the block."

"But where did you get the letters dear?"

"Oh, we found 'em in your trunk in the attic, all tied up with a blue ribbon."

WILL ATTEMPT TO KEEP ROAD OPEN DURING WINTER

An attempt will be made this winter to demonstrate that given a good road, automobile traffic can be carried on successfully all year round in Alberta.

The Probus Club, a business men's organization of Calgary, has undertaken to keep the highway between Calgary and High River clear of snow during the winter months to stimulate business in the city, and encourage motor traffic from country points on this line.

GOOD RETURNS FOR
1926 SUGAR BEET CROP

Some twenty thousand dollars has been paid to sugar beet growers in southern Alberta during the past week, representing a final bonus of 47 cents a ton on their 1926 crop delivered to the Canadian Sugar Factory Ltd. at Raymond. This brings the total returns to growers up to $7.37 per ton for the 1926 crop. This is an increase of $1.52 per ton over the final price paid for the 1925 crop, and the statement is made in a letter to read to growers by the sugar company that "Sugar prices are stable and prices for 1927 and 1928 beets are likely to remain high and attractive to the farmers".
